BIO:

Aubrey is a senior from Ossining, New York. She is shy at the beginning, but as you talk to her more you can see her fun and caring personality shine through. Although coming from a basketball family with her dad coaching and playing she didn't start playing basketball until 7th grade after loving the game of soccer. Aubrey has also started learning the piano again, after she gave it up as a child. She also talks about how she can draw. Even with these smaller talents by any conversation you can see how any of her teammates would describe her as funny and goofy, but also caring and nice. Aubrey hopes to build a camp to help develop the game of basketball for young girls and partner with more brands. We are lucky to have Aubrey working with us at Championship Labs.
